Thermographic Diagnostic Imaging and Chadds Ford Endermologie have partnered up.

We are pleased to announce Chadds Ford Endermologie as our newest off-site Thermographic testing location.

Thermography is a physiologic breast health risk assessment tool utilizing medical infra-red imaging technology without damaging compression and radiation

Thermography allows women to maintain their dignity while empowering them to be proactive in their health and wellness concerns.

Thermography uses state of the art infrared technology, a totally safe, non-radiologic, non-invasive, painless breast health test. Thermography detects the physiologic changes in the breast tissue that have been shown to correlate with breast dysfunction. Since thermal imaging detects changes at the cellular level, studies suggest that thermography can detect activity eight to ten years before any other test. This allows for the earliest possible indication of abnormalities which allows for the earliest possible intervention.
